How to protect your digital footprint.
Your facebook page: be aware

Jade loves spending time on her social networking page. Her privacy settings are set to public access.

Read the information Jade has posted on her page and help her to be a better cybercitizen by suggesting at least 10 things she can do with her profile:

1. Keep her personal information private.
2. Help her avoid unwanted contact.
3. Protect her digital reputation.
4. Demonstrate respectful communication—online etiquette.

How to clean up your digital image

- There are tools like InPrivate in Explorer 8 or Private Browsing in Firefox that makes sure that no data is stored locally on your computer. There are also online services such as Anonymizer, which can be used for hiding your digital footprints on the web. Firefox also has an Add-On called FoxyProxy worth checking out.
